In addition to this application, please submit the following:

1. Personal Statement: This is your opportunity to tell us about yourself. Please describe your plans for this human rights internship. Why do you want to be editor-in-chief? What makes your skills or perspective special? How well do you work with others? What is something you may implement to make Namaste the best it can be? Be reflective. Find your individual voice and express it honestly. (2 page maximum)

2. Letter of Recommendation: Please have one letter of recommendation written on your behalf from an instructor or mentor who has known you for at least one year. The reference letter must be submitted in a sealed envelop and include the name, address, and phone number of the referee.

3. Unofficial Transcript: Please enclose an unofficial copy of your University of Connecticut academic transcript.

4. Resume: Please enclose a resume that includes current and previous employment, including military experience, part-time work, and summer or other temporary positions. Your resume should also list your involvement in extracurricular activities, such as organizations, clubs, sports, and campaigns, while attending the University of Connecticut.

5. Writing Sample: Please include a 2 page writing sample. It can be on any topic you want.

I attest that the information in this application and its supporting materials are true and accurate to the best of my knowledge.
